

Families are Your Partners

Building partnerships with the families of your child care children is essential to ensuring the best possible outcomes for all children. A partnership with families is very rewarding because it helps you build community in your program and allows you to get to know your children better. This work can also be challenging. Join us at this hands-on discussion and workshop and learn strategies for easier, more effective communication with families and ideas for making your program even more welcoming and accessible.

At this workshop you will:

- Learn new strategies to more effectively communicate with families
- Discuss ideas for building a community of families in your program
- Take away at least three new ideas to try in your child care program
